

Scott Tucker, director

Since 1995, Scott Tucker has been the Priscilla Edwards Browning Director of Choral Music at Cornell University where he conducts the Cornell University Chorus, Glee Club, and World Music Choir. He also oversees the activities of the Cornell Chorale, Chamber Singers, and Sage Chapel Choir, and teaches courses in music theory and conducting. Under Professor Tucker's leadership, the Cornell choirs have established a strong relationship with the Syracuse Symphony Orchestra, with whom they perform regularly.

An active proponent of new music, Professor Tucker has commissioned and premiered more than twenty new choral works in the past ten years. He serves as Repertoire and Standards Chair for Male Choirs in the Eastern Division of the American Choral Directors Association, and as a board member of the Intercollegiate Men's Choirs and Musicians for World Harmony.

Professor Tucker received a Master of Music degree in choral conducting from the New England Conservatory of Music, a Bachelor of Music degree in trumpet performance from the New England Conservatory, and a Bachelor of Science degree from Tufts University.
